Last night's "killing" created so much excitement as to entirely crowd out of the public mind the "hold-up" of the Wickenburg stage on the previous night, so that the arrest of Joe Gibbon for that offence received but little attention, although the evidence against him is of the strongest kind, his trail having been fellowed with the assistance of Indians from the scene of the robbery to his cabin in West Prescott. A comparison of his boot with the tracks a, charged with unlawfully ap- leading to and from his home to the place nother man's horse, were given where the stage was stopped, leaves but little doubt as to his connection with the efforts of the authorities in their endeavor to crush out stage robbing, would naturally be supposed to have a tendency to cast a damper on this rather common but hazardous business pursuit. That such is not the case, however, Tuesday night's robbery of the Wickenburg stage seems to demon strate beyond cavil. The particulars of the occurrence vary but little from the old routine and stereotyped descriptions of such affairs, which are so familiar to our readers The driver, Joe Bowley, states that when within two miles and a halt of town, near the outgoing stage three years age, he was confronted by the ever-pursuasive argument of a double barrelled shotgun and ordered which he was permitted to proceed on his Greenback 2,000. way. On arriving in town he reported the "hold-up" to Sheriff Henkle, and this in concealing his trail, it is inferred the road agent was an old hand at the business, but so far ne clue has been obtained as to hi
